Particulars Relating to the Death of J. P. Sparks.

This gentleman, it will be recollected, w elected to the Legislature, from Henry county, in 1861, as a Union man, and re-elected last year. We have given one version of the stories afloat as to the manner of his death. We have since learned from a gentleman, who was in Pleasureville on the day Sparks was killed, what the facts are, as far as they are known. Ten guerrillas, the same that stopt the first rain probably, went to Sparks' house, upbraided him with violating his pledges, that he made to the people of the county in 1851, threatened to hang him, and demanded an oath that he should stand up to what he promised. The interview ended without in ury or any violence to Sparks. We believe the rebels report that he promised what was demanded. Something good to drink, perhaps, helped to mollify them.

Next day the rebels came into Pleasureville in some force-fifty or sixty. Our inormant heard two or three pistol shots. Soon after he saw Bart Jenkins, the Captain of the squad. He rode up to Mr. Kelly, a wellknown citizen of Henry county, with whom he was acquainted, and requested him to go and attend to a man he had shot. He said he thought it was Press Sparks; that Sparks had shot at kim. Mr. Kelly rode immediately to the place where he had heard the shooting Sparks was placed on a blanket and carried to his house

Jenkins rode up and expressed his regret t Sparks if he bad hurt him much. "But," said be, "you ought not to have shot at a soldier." "Your regrets come too late," said Sparks. He was carried to his house, where a gentleman wrote his will at his request. He left half his property to his daughter, and half to his sister and her children. There was much interest felt as to whether he had shot or not out no one would ask the question. In a few minutes after he subscribed to his will, which he did by a friend holding his feeble hand, he expired. Our informant does not believe that Mr. Sparks fired a pistol at all. There was no proof that he bad one with him.

When the rebels came into the village sor of Mr. Sparks' neighbors found him asleep They waked him up and advised him to make his escape, as the rebels would kill him. He got up suddenly, took out a back way, but ran right on the pickets. He changed his course, but did not stop. The picket fired at Sparks, and, from the position of Jenkins at the time, the ball passed very near him, so he took it

Be not overmuch righteous, neither make thyself overmuch wise. Why shouldst thou destroy the self?—[Solomon.

There is a world of practical wisdom in that old book, and here is an item of it. Some men are too righteous to get along in the world. Perhaps it would be better if the rest of mankind could see their merit, but the rest of mankind do not see it, will not see it, and they destroy these overmuch righteous persons and these overmuch wise ones who cast their pearls before swine.

Better let the world go along its own way Persuade men to do better, if you can; but if they will not, better not get so righteous and o wise your neighbors can't live with you. We have a whole party now that is overmuch righteous and overmuch wise. Some of them are, no doubt, very conscientious, who think that in propagating their creed by the sword they must be doing God's service. They are so sure they are right that no means to their end can be wrong. All that stands in the way is evil. "If slavery is not wrong nothing is wrong," says Lincoln. He and his B. McClellan. party have a mission against it. It is theirs to extirpate it. They are overmuch righteous and overmuch wise. If slavery were wrong, approved the best parts of the instrument, He wasn't like the French lady, who said: "Sister Sallie, I don't know how it is, but I never saw anybody that was always right but myself." She was a good specimen of the overmuch righteous and wise. She was a fair type of millions. We have a party now composed of such material. They are for no terms with rebels. It would be wrong to make terms with rebels. People as righteous and wise as they are should not compromise with sinners. We would suggest to them the advice of Solomon: "Be not overmuch righteous, peither make thyself overmuch wise," but they would consider Solomon disloyal, or conservative, which is but another name for rebel these days. Notwithstanding, we believe solomon was right, and his admonition should be considered: "Why shouldst thou destroy

We are not sufficiently informed upon artial subjects to attempt any criticism of the present movements in Virginia. Every now and then an inspired genius like Crom well or the editor of a newspaper appears, who is quite as competent to lead as Grant or Napoleon. We are afraid, however, we are not so gifted. We are therefore willing to leave the matter entirely in the hands of General Grant, in the full confidence that as he has lone well in the past he will not falsify his previous reputation. It may not sound like a proper spirit in these egotistical days, but we elieve he can fight it out as well as we could urselves, perhaps-not sure. It is worth while, however, and even within the reach of our ability, to point out to the radicals that General Grant is recklessly departing from their plan of the campaign and falling into McClellan's. As his plans have been denounced as treasonable, and have been held up to ridicule, we think a radical remon strance would be consistent. A slight refer ence to actual facts would be convincing.

The Government plan, as set down in Mr Lincoln's various letters to McClellan, required that the advance should be direct by the rall line from Washington, driving the enemy efore us, and so always interposing an army between Lee and Washington. This is what was meant by Gen. Grant's remarkable speech that he intended "to fight it out on this line, if it took all summer." McDowell was not or dered from Fredericksburg because it would expose Washington. We call attention to the fact that Gen. Grant did not fight it out on this line, and drive Lee before him. Instead, he moved around his flank, leaving Washington exposed-leaving the line he had spoken of, and changing his base to the White House, just where the Copperhead McClellan had been. Soon after that General reached that point he fought a battle, known as "Gaines' Mill," and the radicals do say it was unsuccessful. Some of the same papers now assert that a battle was fought at the same place by Gen. Grant, with not much better luck. Let that be true or false, is it not perfectly apparent that Gen. Grant is adopting the plans of the despised and vilified McClellan?

Would it not be a good plan, a patriotic plan, for one of these true blues to take General Grant aside and talk to him upon this concidence, or would it not be advisable for President Lincoln to write him just such a letter as he did to McClellan, beginning with "wherein is your plan better than mine," or words to that effect?

It is a humiliating thing to add that General Grant has very disrespectfully continued to follow up the outlines of McClellan's strategy.

geous fortune. We don't ky may be in this. It is hinted that the capture of our rulers would not be considered a misever, too dark a suspicion to gain a moment's It was complained of McClellan that heasked for re-enforcements, and the Government allowed him the privilege-of asking. We notice from the reports that Grant, in this re-spect, does not differ from his predecessor, as almost every day tells how he is fast receiving re-enforcements. These are subjects worthy of the truly loyal. It is no difference that these plans may be the best plans, and the concurrence of McClellan and Grant in them proves it. The trouble is the manifest contempt shown for the plans and advice of General Lincoln, late of the Blackhawk war. The capture of Richmond will hardly be considered at all expatiatory of the grand crime of disrespect shown by Grant to his superior officer in thus adopting and succeeding by the strategy of that disloyal officer, George A SHADE WORSE THAN THE BLUE LAWS .-From a Bridgeport (Conn.) paper we learn that a Mr. Jessup Sherwood, of Fairfield, in that State, brought a suit against his wife (a second

RETURN OF VALLANDIGHAM,

His Appearance at Hamilton, Butle County, Yesterday-He and Chris. Hughes Elected Delegates to the Chicago Convention-His Speech at Hamilton-He Takes the Cars for exist ame

[From the Cincinnati Commercial, June 16th.]

HAMILTON, Ohio, June 15. The Democratic District Convention, to elect delegates to the Chicago Convention, met here to-day. This convention was to have been held in Dayton, some three or four weeks ago, but was postponed for reasons that will presently appear. There was a pretty full attendance. It was circulated about that Vallandigham would be here, but nobody credited it. The convention was in session and landigham would be here, but nobody credited it. The convention was in session and Chris. Hughes and Vallandigham had been elected, with alternates, when suddenly Vallandigham appeared and was escorted to the platform. Men rubbed their eyes to be assured they were not dreaming, and then broke out into one universal yell, indefinitely prolonged. There he was, indeed, and in truth, with the old sardonic grin and the glistening teeth, but fatter and heartier than ever, and looking as though martyrdom agreed with him. When silence had been restored he drew from his pocket a written speech, which livew from his pocket a written speech, which he proceeded to read. It is as follows:

VALLANDIGHAM'S SPEECH. Men of Ohio: To day I am again in your midst, and upon the soll of my native State. To day I am once more within the district which for ten years extended to me the highest confidence, and three times honored me as its Representative in the Congress of the United States. I was accused of no crime United States. I was accused of no crime sgainst the Censtitution or laws, and was guilty of none. But whenever and wherever thus charged, upon due process of law, I am now here ready to answer before any civil court of competent jurisdiction, to a jury of my countrymen, and meantime to give bail in any sum which any judge or court, State or Federal, may affix; and you, the hundred and eighty-six thousand Democrats of Ohio, I offer as my sureties. Never for one hour have I remained in exile because I recognized any obligation of obedience to the unconstitubligation of obedience to the unconstitu-onal and arbitrary edict. Neither did per-onal fear restrain me; and to-day I return of ony act and pleasure, because it is my constitutional and legal right to reture. Only by an exertion of military power itself, sgainst Constitution and law, and consummated by military force, I was abducted from my home and forced into banishment. The assertion of the President that I was arrested the appropriate the prevent. Special specia numerous other acts of resistance to the draft and to the arrest of deserters, causing "assassination, maiming and murder," or that at any time, in any way, I had disobeyed or failed to counsel obedience to lawful authority, or even to the semblance of law, is absolutely false. I appeal for the proof, to every speech I ever made upon those questions and to the very record of the mock military commission, by the trial and sentence of which I was outraged. No, the sole offense then laid to my charge was words of criticism of the public polley of the Administration, addressed to an open and public political meeting of my fellow-citizens of Ohio, lawfully and peaceably assembled. And to-day my only "crime" is that in the way, which they call treason, worship I the Constitution of my fathers. But for now more than one year no public man has been arrested and no newspaper suppressed been arrested and no newspaper suppressed within the States adhering to the Union, for the expression of political opinior; while hundreds in public assembly, and through the press, have, with a license and violence in which I never indulged, criticised ard condemned the acts and policies of the Administration, and denounced the war, maintaining was the propriet and processity of the received. even the propriety and necessity of the recognition of Southern independence. Indorsed by nearly 200,000 freemen of the Democratic party of my native State at the late election, and still with the sympathy and support of millions more, I do not mean any longer to be the only man of that party who is to be the victim of arbitrary power. If Abraham Linguistics are all armed. At a meeting of the Democratic party of shall not again deprive me of my personal your State convention of 1863 by the gallant your State convention of 1865 by the gallant gentleman who bore the standard as your Lieutenant Governor, and by every Democratic press and public speaker ever since. It is dead. From the first it was against the Constitution and laws and without validity, and all proceedings under it were and are uttarily and land void and of no effect. The indignant voice of condemnation long since went forth from the vast mejority of the people and presses of America, and from all free countries in Europe with entire unanimity, and more recently, too, the platform of an earness, unanimous and most formidable convention of the sincere Republicane. vention of the sincere Republicans.

Still further, the emphatic letter of acceptance by the candidate of the convention, Gen.
John C. Fremont, the first condidate also of the Republican party for the Presidency eight years ago, upon the rallying cry of free speech and free press, give renewed hope that at least the reign of arbitrary power is about to be brought to an end in the United States. It is neither just nor fit, therefore, that the wrongs inflicted under "Order Thirty-eight" and the after edicts and acts of such power, should longer be endured—certainly not by me alone. But every ordinary means of redress had first been exhausted. means of redress had first been exhausted; yet neither by the direct agency of the Administration and its subordinates, or through its influence or intimidations in the civil courts the exile, who is retreating to Canada as fast From a Broggeoid (1998), particular for the body; but they provided that the trade should not allow the contract the war and the war trade in the body; but they provided that the trade should not allow the salvery. Men of Ohio — You have already asserted your right to hear. It is now my duty to assert my right to speak. Wherefore as to the sole offense for which I was arrested, impris-oned and banished—free speech in criticism and condemnation of the Administration—an Administration fluy described in a recent pub-lic paper, by one of its early supporters, as marked at home by diaregard of constitutional rights, by its violation of personal liberty of the press, and as the crowning shame, by the abandonment of the right of asylum—a right especially dear to all free nations abroad.

Knights of the Golden Circle," or some other ecret society, treasonable or "disloyal" in its haracter, afiliated with the South, and for the purpose of armed resistance to the author-ties of the Federal and State Governments.

ities of the Federal and State Governments.

Whether any such ever existed I do not know; but the charge that organizations of that sort, or having any such purpose, do now exist among members of that party in Ohio or the other non-slaveholding States, is totally and positively false. That lawful, political or party associations have been established, having as their object the organizing and strengthening of the Democratic party and its success in the coming Presidential election, and designed as a counter movement to the so-called "Union ter movement to the so-called "Union termovement". dential election, and designed as a counter movement to the so-called "Union Leagues," and therefore secret in their proceedings, is very probable; and however objectionable hitherto and in ordinary times, I recognize to the fullest extent, not the lawfulness only, but the propriety and necessity of such organizations—for "when bad men combine, good men must associate." But they are no conspiracy against the Government; and their members are not conspirators, but patriots; men not leagued together for the overthrow of the Constitution or the laws, or still less, of Liberty, but firmly united for the preservation of these great objects. There is, still less, of Liberty, but firmly united for the preservation of these great objects. There is, indeed, a "conspiracy," very powerful, very ancient, and I trust that before long I may add, strongly consolidated also, upon sound principles, and destined yet to be "triumphant"—a conspiracy known as the Democratic party, the present object of which is the overthrow of the Administration in November next, not by force, but through the ballot-box, by the election of a President who shall be true to his oath, to liberty and the Constitution. This is the sole conspiracy of which I

by the election of a President who shall be true to his oath, to liberty and the Constitution. This is the sole conspiracy of which I know anything; and I am proud to be one of the conspirators. If any other exist, looking to unlawful armed resistance to the Federal or State authorities anywhere in the exercise of their legal and constitutional rights, I admonish all persons concerned that the act is treason, and the penalty death. But I warn, also, the men in power that there is a vast multitude—a host whom they can not number, bound together by the atrongest and holiest ties, to defend, by whatever means the exigencies of the times shall demand, their natural and constitutional rights as freemen, at all hazards and to the last extremity.

Three years have now passed, men of Ohio, and the great issue, Constitutional liberty and free popular Government, is still before you; I again commit it, confident that in this, the time of their greatest peril, you will be found worthy of the ancestors who for so many ages in England and America, on the field, in prison, and upon the scaffold, defended them against tyrants and usurpers, whether in council or in arms.

Vallaudisham said the people might want council or in arms.

Vallandigham said the people might want to know how he got here, but that was a secret known to and confided in himself, which cret known to and confided in himself, which would not be shared with another. He said he was going to Dayton, to live there and die there. The speech was rather guarded for Vallandigham. Having received the congratulations of his friends, he was escorted to the depot by an enthusiastic crowd, the whole convention, in fact, going with him, almost carrying him to the cars, and shouting themselves hoarse as the train started for Dayton. Charles Derbin, Esq., of Indiana, was also present and made a rabid speech. A reporter of the Chicago Times was also here, and probably accompanied the distinguished exile from that city.

the belief is that he was conveyed most of the way by private conveyance, and entered Hamilton in a carriage provided by some trusty friend in the secret of his movements.

It is intimated that a few of the worthles in Butler county were posted; and that the convention was postponed to this day in order to suit his convenience. Ohers think he was in collusion with John Morgan, who would have met him at or near this point had not General Burbridge interfered with the programme! Val. was not here more than half an hour in all. Some returned soldiers were in the train from Cincinnati, and their appearance with arms on the platform, alarmed the exile and his friends. He took the rear car, exile and his friends. He took the rear car, and did not allow himself to be seen after VALLANDIGHAM'S ARRIVAL IN DATTON. DAYTON, June 15. Vallandigham arrived here at 5:20. A carlandigham, accompanied by Danlin, of Indians, and a reporter of the Chicago Times, as is supposed, entered and drove to Vallandigham's residence. There was no demonstration whatever. Very few if any persons were aware of his coming. There is, however, a feverish apprehension of trouble in the town. Delegates at the convention to-day in Hamilton openly declared that if the an-Hamilton openly declared that if the authorities attempted to rearrest Mr. Vallandigham, Dayton would be laid in ashes; and its site. Rumors are affoat that he returns by permission of the President; but Mr. Vallan-dighm, in Hamilton, explicitly stated that he dighm, in Hamilton, explicitly stated that he returned on his own responsibility, and without reference to, or the knowledge of, the Government. Ex Mayor Gillespie, who owns the town, confirms this to-night, that the Government knows nothing concerning it. Vallandigham gives out that he will speak at Becket Hall to-morrow.

SECOND DISPATCH. A RUMOR OF RETIREMENT. DAYTON, June 15, P. M. Vallandigham has left. A carriage was noted to go to the depot an hour before the departure of the Dayton and Michigan train, in which were three gentlemen, two of whom the train rough the train rough the same than the same train rough trains and the same train rough trains and the same trains and THIRD DISPATCH. DAYTON, June 15, 10 P. M. It is doubted whether Vallandigham has left. A crowd of people has been coming and going from his residence all evening, but they were denied admittance. Half an hour ago, it is said, he appeared on the back stoop and told the crowd he did not wish to be interrupted to night, that he was much fatigued, and that all would have a chance to see him to morrow. all would have a chance to see him to morrow. It is ascertained that he left Toledo last night, taking an apartment in the sleeping-car, and got off about five miles this side of Hamilton, whence he was conveyed to this place in a carriage in waiting, and secreted till the convention was in session. Dayton is very much excited to-night, and all sorts of speculations as to events consequent upon this foreign importation are affect.

Death of Colonel L. M. Keitt, of South Carolina.

IFrom the Richmond Examiner, June 4th.]

The remains of Colonel Lawrence M. Keitt, of South Carolina, who died in this city from a weund received in the battle of Wednesday, were escorted to the Danville depot yesterday afternoon, and departed en route for the State of his nativity. A portion of the Public Guard and band, with the South Carolina Congressional delegation, accompanied the remains to the depot; the latter officiating as pall-bearers. Colonel Keitt reached Virginia but a few days ago as the commander of the 20th South Carolina regiment, one of the most complete regiments in the service, numbering over 1,200 men. Fresh from the memorable defense of Charleston, Colonel Keitt was justly proud of his veterun command, and burned to lead them to glory and renown. He led them to both, but fell at the moment of victory, pierced by a hireling bullet through the lungs, dying in the defense of the Confederacy, and pouring out his blood on Virginia soil. Colonel Keitt will be remembered in the old Congress of 1857 and '58 as the colleague of the lamented Preston Brooks. He was brave, talented, and chivalrous, and a fit type and model of the Palmetto State. [From the Richmond Examiner, June 4th.]

CHANGES IN THE ARTILLERY ARM.-We CHANGES IN THE ARTIBLEAU learn that General Grant has made important changes in the organization of the artillery of changes in the Potomac, with the view of changes in the organization of the artillery of the Army of the Potomac, with the view of increasing its mobility and its efficiency. The old organization of batteries of six pieces of like caliber—light twelve or ten-pounder Parrotts—is broken up, and the number of pieces in each battery is reduced to four. With a view of adapting the battery to the varying conditions of an engagement, the caliber of the pieces is mixed—two light twelves and two ten-pounders. The four guns are accompanied by six calssons, the intention being to BARRACES ITEMS - There was only a moderate amount of business transacted at the barracks yesterday. The receipts were eighty convalescents from diff rent points, seventeen deserters from Cincinnati and six from locianspolis. The transfers were cleven convalescents and two bundred and twenty-six recruits to Nashville, seventeen convalescents to other points, and five prisoners heavily iroped to Nashville.

MISS RACHEL NOAH .- This charming young actress and vocalist will be tendered a grand benefit on Saturday evening. Miss Noah at the commencement of the present season come among us as a stranger, but now the habitues of the theater look upon her, and justly, as the great star in the company. We hope that she will have a full house

A BEAUTIFUL RESIDENCE IN WINONA, MIN NESCTA.-We direct the attention of our readers looking for a permanent home in the great Northwest, to the advertisement in our col umns this morning, offering a very superior first-class double dwelling-house for sale in the town of Winona, Minnesota. RENTUCKY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE.-The annual commencement of this institution will be held at the college building, corner of Fifth and Green streets, this evening at eight o'clock. At the close of the exercises, Prof. Ireland will deliver an address. The citizens are respectfully invited to attend.

COURT MARTIAL .- There was no business transacted in Lieut. Mosby's court yesterday, owing to the fact that the parties accused and the witnesses were unable to reach the city, owing to the trains all being detained. We did not learn whether any case would be before the court to-day or not,

THE MORRIS TRIAL -As this trial pro gresses the interest and attendance increases, Yesterday the entire day was consumed in the examination of two witnesses for the prosecution. The presecution will probably be closed the present week, and the defense will commence on Monday next,

There was some excitement occasioned at the corner of Fifth and Jefferson streets yesterday by a set-to between a gentleman of the law and a dealer in dry goods. Friends interfered, and the difficulty was amicably ad insted before aty serious trjury was done.

It will be seen by reference to our amusement heading that Mr J. M. Dawson the popular actor and clever gentleman, takes a benefit at the Louisville on Monday night.

The train from Nashville came in on time last evening. There was nothing of unusual interest transpiring along the line.

Hickman, Ky., is said to be infested by guerillas. On Wednesday a party numbering forty went into town, but were fired on from the houses by the citizens. Their Captain, a notorious scoundrel named Wall, was killed at the first fire, when the guerrillas retreated. About one hundred men of the Thirty-fourth New Jersey, under Capt. Blood, were sent to hunt them out. On Friday night, while al tering their picket lines, Lieutenants Hugg and Stanley were pounced upon by the guerrillas and carried off. On Saturday the guer rillas made their appearance on a hill and commenced firing upon the regiment. The latter immediately formed and charged up the bill upon the enemy and fired, killing one man, who was wearing Lieut. Hugg's saber. [Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 15. A gentleman of high official position hav-ng just arrived from Grant's headquarter-says the railroads running porth from Rich mond have been completely destroyed withit the past week by our cavalry. Not a bridge abutment or culvert remains intact. All have been burned and blown up, and the rails bent twisted and suck in the swamps.

The rebel railroad communication with the northern portion of Virginia is at an end The rebels, by exerting all their energies could not repair the damages in three months The rebel cavalry have all disappeared from our front and flucks. Doubtless they have gone to intercept, if possble, Sheridan's force, which, by this time, is supposed to be oper-ating in the very bowels of Virginia.

Ninety-three drafted men have bee opted by the Board of Eurollment in this civy during the past three days, as follows: For physical disability, forty-three; mental disability, six; over age, fifteen; under age, tour; non residence, two; alienage, five furnished substitutes, eighteen. LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS, LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS, THE GREAT PEMALE REMEDY THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY ! YON'S PERIODICAL DROPS CURE ALL COM-plaints incident to the sex, and remove all obstruc-ions of nature from whatever cause, producing health, tions of nature from whatever cause, producing a vigor and strength.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS are better than all Pilis, Powders and nostrums; being a fluid preparation, their action is direct and positive, and it needs nothing but good common sense to see and understand the reason why they cure all t ose ills to which the female system is subjected, with di patch and a degree of certainty which nothing but a sclerifically compounded fluid preparation could reach; they are in the most obstinate

RELIABLE AND SURE TO DO GOOD AND CANNOT DO HARM.

They are peculiarly adapted as they bring the mouthly period with such perfect regularity.

I could furnish any quantity of testimonials of its efficacy from my own patients, but the practice of parading bought any fictif us ones before the public is so prevalent I do not deem it advisable. BE WISE IN TIME. BE WISE IN TIME. BE WISE IN TIME Let not disease destroy your constitution. Try a bottle of my PERIODICAL DROPS, and you will be satisfied that I am no impostor. Tell your achieved friend what restored the cloom of health to you cheeks, and thereby confer a favor more v-lauble than gold. For paichi or scanty Menstruation, it is just the thing. I have now in my mind an testance of a lady who had been suffering room painful Menstruation two or three years, confining her to her room each time. She had applied to several eminent physicians, without relief, when one bottle of my DROPS entirely cured her.

The following information in regard to the ate expedition of Gen. Sturgis is gathered from officers accompanying the expedition, and is mainly correct. Nothing of interest occurred until the expe dition passed Salem, Mississippi, on the 5th, when 300 men were sent in advance, passing through Ripley, capturing several small parries of the enemy and moving directly upon Rierzi and Danville, destroying the railroad, burning the depot at the former place and constantly skirmishing with a consideral body of the enemy. They rejoined the main body on

The Swate nonconcurred in the House immendments to the Sanate bill to prevent imaggling.

On motion of Mr. Wade inquiry was ordered into the manner of engraving and printing fractional currency boads, notes, &c:

Mr. Chandler, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill for increased telegraphic facilities between the Atlantic and Pacific States and the Territory of Idaha, with amandstates and the T together with Mr. Spencer's saddlery establishment, from which they took everything they desired. The losses sustained by many of these establishments were quite heavy, but at this writing no proper estimate can be given of them. The livery stable of Mr. Frack Hord was visited and the finest horses in it were taken, while other stables were doubtless treated in the same way. The Government "correll" within the city limits were less treated in the same way. The Gov-erument "correil" within the city limits was also robbed of a large number of horses and mules. We also heard of some cases of the robbing of private citizens of watches, money, &c. It is impossible in the confusion that now exists to furnish the particulars of this daring raid or the amount of damage done. Morgan's approach was not wholly unex pected, for it was known that Mount Sterling had been taken by him the day previous, and in the afternoon of Thursday he was reported in the afternoon of Thursday he was reported to be in the neighborhood of Paris, but this report was unfounded. The convalescents were removed from the general hospital after night to Fort Clay, whilst all the available troops were placed on duty, who made a manly effort to keep him at bay, but all in vain While the rebels were robbing the stores about 7 o'clock yesterday morning, a few shells were thrown over the city from the fort, and the alarm was given that the Federals were coming, and hurriedly forming into line, they ing, and harriedly forming into line, they marched out on the Georgetown tumpike, eaving the city as quiet as on a Sabbath morning, all business being suspended and the names closed.

ouses closed, Morgan certainly managed the whole affair Morgan certainty managed the whole affair very well, as he cut the telegraph wires leading to the city from Louisville and Cincinnati, and damaged the railroad to Covington so that there could be no communication with that point, whilst the Louisville trains were also stopped. Previous to his coming here his men had taken many of the flocat horses on his route through Montgomery, Clarke and Bour boo, and with those they obtained here and ood, and with those they obtained here and in this vicinity, they are now perhaps better mounted than ever before, besides being handsomely equipped. He has evidently made a good thing of it if he should succeed in getting out of the Sare safely. He would not have faced so well here but for the fact that several regiments had been removed to Camp Nelson a day or two previeus to protect that point, leaving comparatively but a handfull of

An hoar or two preceding the coming of the rebels the extensive brewery of Messra. Wolf & Walker, near the limits of the city, was destroyed by fire—supposed to have been their work. The stables of Mr. Jas. A. Grin stead, on the Association race course, were also destroyed by fire near the same hour. There were other fires in different localities.

Mr. John M. Clay had taken from him about $25,000 worth of race horses, among them the famous Skedaddie, for which he was offered recently at St. Louis $8,000. There were

The Lexington Observer and Reporter, in its issue of the 15th, in giving further particulars of the "Morgan raid," has this additional information in regard to prisoners cap-consigned to Fort Clay. The victory of General Burbridge was complete. Morgan's command was scattered, and a portion of them (some three hundred) passed rapidly of them (some three hundred) passed rapidly through Scott county on Sunday evening and on through Woodford and Jessamine the next day in the direction of the Kentucky river. They crossed the Frankfort railroad at Payne's depot, eleven miles below the city, about 4 o'clock Sunday evening, and fired the depot building there, but such was their hasted that they did not remain to see it consumed, and the citizens succeeded, after they left, in putting out the fire and saving the building with but trifling loss. We have heard of other small squads of Morgan's forces in this section, and to persons who conversed with them they admitted they had been terribly whipped at Cynthians. Morgan himself is said to have fied in the direction of Bracken county with a portion of his command and the prisoners he had taken; and through Bracken, Nicholas, had taker; and through Bracken, Nicholas, Fleming, do., he will, doubtless, endeavor to make his way out to Virginia by the route he came in, after reaching the mountains of Eastern Kentucky. He is, however, closely pursued, Gen. Burbridge having detailed Col. C. S Hanson's brigade for the purpose, and it is not impossible he will be overtaken.

YESTERDAY'S NOON DISPATCHES From the Seat of War in Virginia. Grant Still Operating Successfully. Fort Darling Reported Captured. Our Weunded Suffering Terribly. He will be Forced to Fight or Retreat to Richmond.

Further News from Sheridan's Raid. He Destroys Various Railroads Steele's Command in Arkansas. Little Rock and Pine Bluff Fortified Details of the Bayon Fisk Battle. General Magruder's Force Routed The Rebels Repairing New Bridge.

New York, June 16. The World's Washington special says: It has just been learned that a large number of our wounded in the battles of the Wilderness are suffering terribly. Some days since a few made crutches and hobbled in sixty miles, and reported that a force with ambu en sept out, but found that the rebels had been there and taken off about two hundred, leaving the worst cases. Some of these died on the way in.

The World's Washington special says the best military critics here say Lee will be compelled to fight a battle at once or retreat to Richmond. It is not believed here that the defenses south can be carried by a coup de main.
With the surrounding roads cut, a large army in the city can't exist there; therefore Lee must either full on Grant with his whole force before he has intrenchments, and evacuate or manage the defenses, or fall back to Lynchurg keep over a communication and have communicati manage the defenses, or fall back to Lynchburg, keep open communication and hang on the flanks of Grant's army.

It is rumored here that Lee would attempt to crush Hunter and menace Meade; but there are no fears he will expose himself while Grant is in the rear. A hopeful feeling pervades all circles. It is thought Achilles' heel has been reached at last, and that the rebel capital and the main army was in a worse fix than since the withdrawal of McClellan from Harrison's Landing.

Another dispatch to the World says, for some nights past the enemy have been mak-

The Tribune's Washington special says it is understood that Sheridan in his raid destroyed as much as possible the road between Richmond and Fredericksburg. He then made a dash on Charlottesville and destroyed the diverging roads. It was supposed that Sheridan would join Averill. Lee's cavalry appeared on Friday, probably in pursuit of Sheridan. The Tribune's Washington special says that Steele's army is at Little Rock, Fine Bluff, Fort Smith and Duvall's Bluff. Little Rock and Pine Bluff are strongly defended.

The rebel army in Arkansas is much scattered. The Tribune's Washington special says it is

The Herald's Key West correspondent says | Machine Cards, The Herald's Key West correspondent says a detachment of Union troops marched from Fort Meyers to Fort Meade, a distance of nine ty miles. They met a party of guerrillas, who fled on seeing them. They captured twenty-two horses and over one thousand head of Cotton Gins, ned on seeing them. They captured twenty-two horses and over one thousand head of cattle, which they drove to our lines. Much prevision and forage was also secured. Sev-enty-one Union prisoners were released, and seventy women and children, who were nearly starved, were rescued. The expedition was absent fourteen days, and marched over two hundred miles. Three small vessels, with va-rious cargoes, were also captured. rious cargoes, were also captured.

NEW YORK, June 16. The Herald's correspondent with A. J. Smith's corps gives details of the battle at Bayou Fisk, resulting from the pursuit of Magrader, with the object of diverting him from grader, with the object of diverting him from Banks in Mississippi,

The fight was on the 16th, and lasted two hours. Megrader's force numbered 6,000 mounted infantry and cavalry, besides three batteries. The rebels were completely routed, thus opening the Mississippi to navigation for a time. Our forces being infantry, they were unable to pursue, and re-embarked on the 7th for Memphis.

for Memphis.

The Herald's Nassau correspondent says that large quantities of arms, ammunition, clothing, beef and breadstuffs continue to be received there from New York, Philadelphia, and Portland, and sent successfully to the rebels, who laugh at our blockade. Sixty thousand dallars were received there from Trosier & Co., of Carleston, which was given to the British official who seized the pirate

Florida and went through a mock trial, when she was released. The American consul has been compelled to close his consulate, as the secession sym-pathizers refuse to let him officiate. New York, June 16.

A special to the Herald from Beverly Court house, Va., of the 15th, says one of our sur-geons left by Gen. Crook at Cloud's Mountain in charge of wounded has arrived. He left ten days ago, and reports that the rebels were re-pairing the New river bridge, which he pre-sumes is completed by this time. This is an important matter in feeding Lee's army. The forces of Col. Harris, commanding the post, are actively pursuing small bands of guerril-las. Hunter is all right. New York, June 16.

The World's special says, passengers who arrived by Baltimore from Richmond report the rumor current in the city when they left that Grant, by a grand assault, had carried Fort Darling, and captured the entire garrison, sustaining, comparatively, a slight loss. It was also rumored that our genboats had, by means of devils, with which the monitors were provided, removed the torpedo is in the river, and were ascending the rebel iron clade.

P. S. As I have only the Mower, I cannot say much about the Reaper.

GRAHAMTOWN, KY., Jaduary 26, 1864. Grandmown, Ky., January 25, 1294.

Mr. J. D. Bondurant—Dear Sir: I hereby certify with pleasure to the good qualities of Ball's Combined Reaper and Mower, bought of you last season (1863), for W. G. and O. M. And roon. I fully test-d is qualities on all kinds of ground—very rough hill-sides and stony bottoms—for heavy lodged wheat, light grain, and light and heavy grass, and it gave perfect satisfaction in all its operations. And I do certify that it is the best Reaping and Mowing Machine I ever saw, and is by far the best I have used on this farm.

Respectfully yours.

JAMES GEDDES.

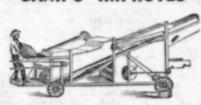

J. D. Bondurant, Louisville, Ky.: The undersigned, each of us having used E Ball's improved Reaper and Mower, would recommend the same as b-ing worthy of patronace. We would say that the makine, both as a Reaper and Mower, exceeds our expectations. Bruns very easy for a team of two horses in the heaviest when cutting a swath six feet wide. B delivers the grain at the side of the platform with case to the raker, and in good condition for birdirg. We would forther add, that we have had the purchase of machines in costemplation for several years, and during that line have endeavored to post ourselves as well as we could as the merits of the different machines sold and used in our neighborhood, and finally concluded that the Ball Machine, all things considered came the nearest to our ideas of what a Reaping and Mowing Mechine ought to be, and accordingly purchased that Machine, and after having used them, we are satisfied that we made the very best selection we could have made.

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD And for the speedy cure of the following complaints Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils Blains, and all Skia Diseases.

Oakland, ind., 6th June, 1859

J. C. Ayers & Co.—Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways, for; years. Sometimes it burst out in invarious ways, for; years. Sometimes it burst out in the bound of the standard and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much rejief from anythine. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputs dion that anything you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took R. as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a while fell off. My skin is now cleav, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully compily with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for walch we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Disacess of the Scrofthous disthesis. I have cure many invelerate cases of Leucorrhox by it, and som where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the sterus. The ulceration taelf was soon cured. Not ing sithin my knowledge equals it for these female drangements." rangements. Marrow. of Newbury, Ala., writes: "A dan gerous overrida fumor on one of the females in m Jamily, which had defied all the remedies we could empoy, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparil's. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could aff. rd relief, but he advised the ling, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease. NEW ORLEANS, 26th August, 1859.
Dn. J. C. Ayrag—Sir: I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have rea lacd with your Sarsaparilla.

There or which it is recommended, and have found its recommended. The recommended is the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its recommended in the cure of Feneral and Market and the top of his mode. One of my patients had Syphilitic uncers in the that were consuming his palate and the top of his mode, were Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks.

I have considerable part of it, so that I toolieve the disorder would soon reach his brain and killing. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A won, an who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Freparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LABIMER, M. D.
